Learning tip Grouping vocabulary

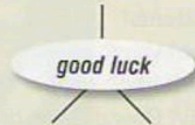

A good way to learn sayings, like proverbs or superstitions, is to group them according to topics, using word webs.

1 For each topic below, find a superstition from this unit. Write the ones you want to remember.

Dream of a snake, and you'll find your soul mate.

It's good luck to find a four-leaf clover.

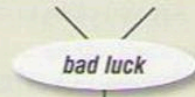

Good luck!

Over 50% of the uses of the word luck are when people talk about or wish others Good luck!

Less than 5% of its uses are to talk about dumb, bad, poor, tough, or rotten luck.

If you pick up coins, you'll come into money.

If you break a mirror, you'll have seven years of bad luck.

2 Word builder Can you complete these superstitions? If you don't know them, you can look up the phrases in quotation marks (" ") in a search engine on the Internet. Then add them to the word webs above.

- Finding a ladybug . . .
- If you open an umbrella indoors, . . .
- Cut your nails on Friday, . . .

- Bringing a new broom into a new house . . .
- Putting clothes on with your left arm first . . .
- Leave a house by the same door . . .

On your own

Ask 5 people if they are superstitious about anything. Translate their superstitions into English.
